

Mountains are a meeting-place. Since time immemorial, in the mountains man meets man and through man meets God. Mountains are my homeland!

Dear guest, my name is Renzo Turri and I'm here to contact you and welcome you to my site. I use the opportunity of your presence on the WEB and of your kindness to give you some information of a general nature.

Firstly: where we are.

Pejo is a small tourist reality in the middle of the Alps; it is exactly in the Alpi Retiche in the southern part of the Group Ortles-Cevedale, near the Adamello-Presanella Group and the Dolomites of Brenta.

The soul of this place is the people who live up these mountains.

Three motives, I think, should bring you to spend your holiday in Val di Pejo (which we call "La Valletta")

Since the second half of the 1800's Pejo has been known for its oligomineral springs water. Known all over Italy since the days of the Austro-Hungarian Empire, Pejo has been known as a locality famous for its waters (Admirandum Dei donum...) all over the middle European area. The thermal center of Pejo Terme offers you a range of drinking water cures appreciated and beneficial especially for the treatment of respiratory illnesses as well as circulatory rheumatic and dermatological ones.

Pejo is in the middle of the National Park Stelvio. The Park was set up seventyfive years ago and, as well as an ambience of exceptional naturalistic interest, it proposes varied and interesting activities: excursions with snowrackets, walks, guided visits, theme evenings and so much more. The visitors' centre of the Trentino Consortium of the National Park is to be found in Cogolo di Pejo.

The third point is something which does not elude whoever is interested in touristic proposals. Pejo has something which is envied in so many touristic realities above all winter ones. Pejo has a community which has lived here for millennia; a community that existed long before skiing and tourism which has left its mark of its own culture on mountains in the ancient villages enriched by the characteristic "masi" (isolated farm houses). The "masi" tell us and in certain case keep alive the fascinating culture of mountains.

A week's holiday flies by speedily; let's get organized in time. I'm always at your disposal for information and booking.
